MANILA BAY

MANILA, May 1, 1898.

Long, Secretary Navy:

Squadron arrived at Manila at daybreak this morning. Immediately engaged the enemy and destroyed the following Spanish vessels:

Reina Cristina,	General Leza,
Castilla,	Marques del Duero,
Don Antonio de Ulloa,	Correo Velasca,
Isla de Luzon,	Isla de Mindanao,
Isla de Cuba,	A Transport and

A Water Battery at Cavité.

The squadron is uninjured and only a few men are slightly wounded. Only means of telegraphing is to American Consul at Hong-Kong. I shall communicate with him.

DEWEY.

CAVITÉ, May 4, 1898.

Long, Secretary Navy:

I have taken possession of the naval station at Cavité, Philippine Islands, and destroyed fortifications at the bay entrance, paroling the garrison. I control the bay completely and can take the city at any time.

The squadron in excellent health and spirits. The Spanish loss not fully known, but very heavy. One hundred and fifty killed, including the captain of the Reina Cristina. I am assisting in protecting the Spanish sick and wounded. Two hundred and fifty sick and wounded in hospital within our lines. Much excitement at Manila. Will protect foreign residents.

DEWEY.

NEW YORK'S TRIBUTE TO AMERICA'S GREAT ADMIRAL.

THE whole American people are eager to do honor to the hero of Manila Bay, and the important seaboard cities have vyed with each other to welcome his home-coming. So many were the rivals that the Navy Department declined to decide and permitted the gallant Admiral to choose for himself where he should first set foot upon his native country after his glorious victory. New York was the city of his choice, and New York has prepared to welcome him by a celebration worthy of the great sailor and of the nation which he so nobly represents.

Preparations were begun early in the Summer by committees of citizens and official action was taken as soon as possible thereafter by the city authorities. A municipal appropriation of $75,000 was supplemented by liberal private contributions to provide for decorating the city in a royal manner and to prepare great naval and land pageants.

The naval parade will be the sight of a lifetime. Its crowning feature will be the victorious warships of the nation, and thousands of other craft will throng the harbor and pass in review up the Hudson. The Admiral will arrive Thursday night and will be greeted by a brilliant illumination of the harbor and shores, thousands of pounds of colored fire having been provided to be ignited along miles of coast at 8 P. M. Brooklyn Bridge will glow with lines of fire, "Welcome, Dewey." Friday night, upon many floats in the harbor and on the river front and in the parks will be superb displays of fireworks.

The crowning feature of the land parade and the most impressive expression of the Nation's patriotism and gratitude will be the beautiful Dewey Arch, crossing Fifth Avenue at Madison Square, flanked by long triumphal colonnades, crowned with winged Victories shining in white and gold and decked with the National colors. Thousands of seats have been provided by the City along the line of the great parade, probably the largest and most imposing seen in America since 1865, when the armies of the Union marched in review past the Capitol at Washington. This will be the sight of a lifetime.

The Battle of Manila Bay was one of the most notable naval victories in the history of the world, and Admiral Dewey ranks among the great captains of history. Let every patriotic American join to give him a royal welcome home.

New York's foremost citizens have united in preparing this great spectacle. The chief committees and their chairmen are as follows:

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE (187 members).

Chairman—General Daniel Butterfield.
Vice-Chairman—Tunis G. Bergen.
Assistant to the Chairman—N. O. Fanning.

NAVAL PARADE.

FIRST DAY.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 28TH.

1 P. M.—North Atlantic Squadron will sail up from the Lower Bay and anchor off Tompkinsville in the following order:

New York, armored cruiser, Rear-Admiral Sampson's flagship, Capt. Chadwick commanding.

Brooklyn, armored cruiser, Capt. Jewell.

Indiana, battleship, Capt. Taylor.

Massachusetts, battleship, Capt. Train.

Texas, second-class battleship, Capt. Sigsbee.

Lancaster, wooden cruiser, Capt. Thomas.

Torpedo boats Morris, Porter, Winslow, Dupont and Stiletto and gunboat Marietta.

3 P. M.—Admiral Dewey on the Olympia will follow the squadron up the bay, and passing the fleet, will take his place in the van.

4 P. M.—Rear-Admiral Sampson, with his staff, will visit the Olympia and greet the Admiral.

5 P. M.—Mayor Van Wyck and members of the Municipal Committee will call on Admiral Dewey and welcome him home.

8 P. M.—The entire Staten Island and Jersey coast as far as Seabright, and Long Island as far as Rockaway, will be illuminated.

SECOND DAY.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 29TH.

12 M.—Naval parade starts up North River from Government anchorage off Tompkinsville. The Olympia will be in the lead, followed by the squadron, presenting the same line of formation as taken at the anchorage. The Sandy Hook, bearing the Mayor and official guests of the Citizens' Committee, will steam abreast of the Olympia.

The Glen Island, the General Slocum, the Mount Hope, the Sam Sloan and the Matteawan, carrying the committees and city officials, will follow the Sandy Hook, and be the only other vessels outside the lines.

The merchant marine and the yacht flotilla will follow the warships. J. Pierpont Morgan's yacht Corsair and Sir Thomas Lipton's yacht Erin will lead the yacht squadron.

4 P. M.—Salutes will be fired from Grant's Tomb, and responded to by the Olympia, which will come to anchor in midstream off the tomb. The remainder of the procession will pass the Olympia in review, and then counter-sail. Headed by the New York, the line will remain unbroken until it passes the Battery.

THIRD DAY.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 30TH.

8:30 A. M.—Admiral Dewey, accompanied by an escort of cavalry, will be driven to City Hall Park.

9:00 A. M.—Mayor Van Wyck will present to Admiral Dewey a loving cup on behalf of the city of New York.

10:30 A. M.—Admiral Dewey, accompanied by the Mayor and committee and invited guests, to the number of 350, will be driven to Claremont, where breakfast will be served on the lawn at 11:30.

1:00 P. M.—Land parade will start with Admiral Dewey, Mayor Van Wyck, the committee, and visiting guests in carriages, under a cavalry escort, in the lead.

The order of the line of march will be:

(1) United States Navy.
(2) United States Army.
(3) New York State National Guard.
(4) National Guard of other States.
(5) Other uniformed bodies.

The line of march will be:

Down Riverside to Seventy-second street, to Broadway, to Fifty-ninth street, to Fifth avenue, to Twenty-third street, to Fourteenth street, to Washington square.

Admiral Dewey, with the Mayor and committees and visitors, will leave the procession at Twenty-third street and review the line of march.

8:30 P. M.—Smoker at the Waldorf-Astoria for the sailors of the Olympia.

THE FIREWORKS.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 29TH.

8 P. M.—The fireworks display on land will be from these points:

Mount Morris Park.
Fifty-ninth street and Fifth avenue.
Union square.
City Hall.
Intersection of Southern Boulevard and Concourse.
Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument.
Brooklyn: City Hall, County Court House.
Long Island City.
Barron Hill, Staten Island.

On the water, four lighters will start at the same hour—from off Grant's Tomb down the North River, and from Ward's Island down the East River.

Fireworks will be displayed all the way down to the Battery, where ten other lighters will be in waiting and the pyrotechnical display continued.

From Brooklyn Bridge and the yacht Erin there will be electrical displays of unique and original design.

ACCOMMODATION FOR VISITORS.

Hotels, Boarding Houses, Rates and Capacity; Manhattan, Brooklyn, and The Bronx.

THE prominent and well-known hotels are always filled to overflowing when a great celebration draws thousands of transient visitors to New York. Those who have not provided themselves with hotel accommodations before arrival are frequently put to great inconvenience and sometimes subjected to absolute distress through inability to find comfortable stopping places.

The Merchants' Association, co-operating with the Municipal authorities, has endeavored to promote the comfort of visitors by making it easy for them to obtain suitable accommodations. The police authorities have made this possible by preparing for The Merchants' Association lists of reputable hotels and boarding houses, sufficiently accessible for the purpose intended, within the Boroughs of Manhattan, Brooklyn and The Bronx. These lists appear on the following pages, the number of persons and the rates being specified, so far as feasible. With a very few exceptions the rates named for hotels are the minimum for rooms only and for one person. The rates for boarding houses, as a rule, are for board and lodging, but in some cases for rooms only. Intending visitors should in all cases make inquiry upon this point, to avoid misunderstanding. Write direct to the addresses given, and not to The Merchants' Association.

Additional and most excellent sources of information are the bureaus of the several daily papers named below, which are cordially recommended to intending visitors as likely to render them most efficient aid:

INFORMATION BUREAUS FOR DEWEY CELEBRATION:

"Brooklyn Eagle" Bureau: Eagle Building, Brooklyn, and 952 Broadway, Manhattan.

"New York Journal" Bureaus: Main Office; 1267 Broadway; 250 West 125th street; Hotel Bartholdi, 23d street and Broadway; Union Dime Savings Bank Building; 59th street and 8th avenue; 311 Washington street, Brooklyn.

"New York World" Dewey Bureau: Uptown Office, 36th street and Broadway.

By addressing these bureaus, with full information of the kind of accommodation desired and the approximate price, either personally or by letter (in which case a stamp for reply should be enclosed), intending visitors will be much aided. It will be advisable to enclose a small deposit, when positive orders for rooms are given.

In addition to the service rendered by the bureaus named in securing quarters, etc., all the daily papers in New York will render special services of various kinds to inquirers, and each will have some distinctive feature of information touching the various events of the celebration. Several of the great dailies will publish souvenir supplements detailing the events of the successive days of the celebration with lavish illustrations.

A list of the New York daily newspapers follows :

Morning.	Evening.
Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin.	Brooklyn Daily Eagle.
Morning Telegraph.	Commercial Advertiser.
New York Commercial.	Evening Journal.
New York Herald.	Evening Post.
New York Journal.	Evening Sun.
New York Press.	Evening Telegram.
New York Staats-Zeitung	Evening World.
New York Sun.	Mail and Express.
New York Times.	New York Daily News.
New York Tribune.
New York World.

Notwithstanding the Summer season has passed, many visitors will find pleasure in short trips about New York during the beautiful Autumn season. "Summer Days and Nights in New York," published by The Merchants' Association, a beautiful little pamphlet, illustrates all these, and may be had without cost at the office of the Association. Most of the seashore resorts are closed, but the famous Coney Island is still lively and well worthy a brief visit. Nearby one of the great south-coast hotels—the Brighton Beach—still remains open for the especial accommodation of Dewey visitors. It may be easily reached over most of the lines of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company.

A Centre of Good Works.

Among the throng of coming visitors there will be thousands keenly interested in various works of philanthropy. For these persons a visit to the United Charities Building, at Fourth avenue and 22d street, will give much pleasure and supply a very useful object lesson. This notable building was given by Mr. John S. Kennedy for the purpose of bringing together, under one roof, many societies and charitable organizations which had previously worked without co-operation, and with much waste of effort, his intent being to further systematic effort by bringing about closer contact among isolated workers. This is one of the most business-like and useful of all the works of philanthropy, and whoever visits this great hive of good works will carry away new ideas for doing good.

Going to Brooklyn?

For travellers who arrive from the West via lines terminating in Jersey City or Hoboken the best way to reach Brooklyn is to go around New York instead of across it "Annex" boats convey passengers by water from the railroad stations on the New Jersey side to Brooklyn direct, or by transfer at South Ferry, Manhattan, to ferries for various convenient points on the Brooklyn shore, and to Staten Island. Details of this service may be learned from train agents on any of the lines.

About Buying Theatre Tickets.

Don't put off buying your seats for any New York theatre until evening. The chances are that you will not be able to get seats if you do, unless you buy them from speculators on the sidewalk and pay excessive prices. As a rule, good seats, in the case of a successful play, must be secured several days in advance. This is not convenient for visitors. The best plan is to buy your tickets from the various agents in all the prominent hotels, who charge a small advance over box-office prices. You pay more, but you get satisfaction, which will not be the case if you take your chances and get seats where you can neither see nor hear, or, as an alternative, are forced to pay double prices to the speculators who infest the sidewalks. You may as well be prepared, however, to pay higher prices for theatre tickets in New York than you are accustomed to—in some cases double that charged in most cities. Theatre-going is not cheap in this city.

Cab Service.

The speediest, best and cheapest carriage service for travellers by either the Pennsylvania or New York Central lines is the excellent cab service operated by each company. It also disposes of the baggage nuisance by taking your baggage with you, if of moderate quantity and dimensions. By all means keep your incoming baggage with you if you do not stop at a prominent hotel; otherwise you may wait hours for it, when travel is rushing. Order your cab from the agent on the train, if you wish to secure "quick despatch" for yourself and your traps. One feature, and a commendable one, is "special baggage delivery," which will expedite things if you ask the train agent to provide for it. If you reach New York via the Pennsylvania lines, remember that its cab service is attached only to its uptown ferry-station—namely, Twenty-third street—and is not operated at the Cortlandt or Desbrosses street stations.

NEW YORK'S POLICE AND FIRE DEPARTMENTS.

IT is an ordinary thing for 50,000 visitors to descend upon New York in a single day. When great popular carnivals and patriotic celebrations are in progress, from quarter to half a million people pour in upon the Metropolis from all quarters. The comfort of visitors and residents alike depends upon the careful guardianship, the intelligence, good nature, and faithfulness of the seven thousand police officers who preserve the peace of the great city and protect the persons of its nearly 4,000,000 inhabitants.

Despite surface criticisms New York may well be proud of its police protectors, for it is a sober fact that they are the most efficient body of their kind to be found anywhere in the world. They are distributed over an area of 323 square miles, and there is but one policeman for each 555 inhabitants, an enormous disproportion which imposes upon the force a responsibility far greater than is imposed in most other large cities. Moreover, New York has a very cosmopolitan and, in some respects, turbulent element, and on occasions the personal bravery and endurance of the officers are tested to the utmost. Rare, indeed, are the instances in which they fail nobly to respond.

The "Broadway Squad" is world-famed. It is made up of 83 giants, selected for their patience, intelligence, courtesy and exact discipline, and nowhere can strangers find greater kindliness and more ready assistance than from these men and their brother officers. During the Dewey Celebration there will be hundreds of thousands of visitors in New York who will need information and sometimes personal aid. They will find every police officer obliging and courteous, and they should make free inquiry of New York's protectors on all occasions.

New York expends eleven and a quarter million dollars on its police force yearly. The total force of Greater New York comprises 7,276 men. It is directed by a Chief, whose command is equivalent to that of a Major-General; five Deputy Chiefs, who are the Generals of Divisions; and ten Inspectors, who rank with the Brigadier-Generals of an army. There are 73 Captains, 329

Sergeants, 377 Roundsmen, 6,255 Patrolmen, with small assignments of officers for special duties.

The administration of the Police Department is directed by the following Board of Police Commissioners:

BERNARD J. YORK, President.
JACOB HESS, Treasurer.
JOHN B. SEXTON.
HENRY E. ABELL.

The Executive officials are:

William S. Devery, Chief of Police.
Moses W. Cortright, Deputy Chief of Police, Boroughs of Manhattan and Richmond.
William McLaughlin, Deputy Chief of Police, Borough of Bronx.
John Mackellar, Deputy Chief of Police, Borough of Brooklyn.
Patrick H. McLaughlin, Deputy Chief of Police, Borough of Brooklyn.
Elias P. Clayton, Deputy Chief of Police, Borough of Queens.
Inspector Adam A. Cross, First District.
Inspector Nicholas Brooks, Second District.
Inspector John J. Harley, Third District.
Inspector Walter L. Thompson, Fourth District.
Inspector James Kane, Fifth District.
Inspector John H. Grant, Sixth District.
Inspector Geo. H. Rhodes, Seventh District.
Inspector John Bronnan, Eighth District.
Inspector Thomas Murphy, Ninth District.
Capt. James Campbell, Tenth District.
Inspector Donald Grant, Eleventh District.

IT would probably surprise no one who should ask, "What six things are best worth seeing in New York?" to be told that the New York Fire Department might well stand at the head of the list. It does not occur to the average person that a great and fully efficient fire department is one of the most perfect of human organizations. Nevertheless it is a fact, and the Fire Department of this city is not only the most perfect in existence, but is the centre of energy from whence has proceeded the present high development. It is impossible to realize the perfection and the complexity of this fire machinery without seeing it in operation. The standard of time for responding to an alarm is reduced to less than twenty seconds. How horses are taken from their stalls, harnessed, attached to a two-ton engine; how the six or eight firemen, who are asleep in the room above, are awakened and got into their places; how the whole outfit passes the door in less than one-third of a minute is worth seeing. It may be seen at the Fire Headquarters, 157–159 East Sixty-seventh street, every day during drill hours, and at 11 in the morning each day every fire company performs its evolutions.

New York spends from $4,500,000 to $5,500,000 yearly in protecting itself against fire, for which it employs 2,316 uniformed men, 135 fire-engines, 41 hook-and-ladder outfits, 5 water-towers, with several fire-boats for the protection of its river front and shipping, each of which is equal in capacity to six or eight of the best fire-engines.

The present executive officials of the Fire Department are as follows:

JOHN J. SCANNELL, Commissioner.
JAMES H. TULLY, Deputy Commissioner Brooklyn and Queens Boroughs.
EDWARD F. CROKER, Chief of Department.
JAMES DALE, Deputy Chief Brooklyn and Queens Bors.

GETTING ABOUT IN NEW YORK.

When in Doubt, Ask a Police Officer.

VISITORS to New York during the Dewey Celebration or at other times, who are unfamiliar with the city and need direction to places of interest, specific localities, car lines, etc., will readily obtain the desired information from any police officer. The quickest, shortest and best way to get anywhere in or near New York, or to find out what you want to know, is to ask a policeman. The discipline of the department requires every officer to be able to reply promptly and intelligently to any question relating to a surprisingly large class of facts—the questions that often arise and which the average citizen can't answer.

Chief of Police Devery has issued a special order as below, enjoining upon the force the strictest courtesy and helpfulness to visitors and citizens, in view of the vast crowds during the Dewey Celebration, whose presence will impose a very heavy extra burden upon the force:

An important duty devolving upon the police is that of assisting, advising and protecting immigrants, strangers and travellers in the public streets and places, at steamboat and steamship landings and at railroad stations. Commanding officers are directed to instruct the members of their commands that they must carefully perform their duty in this regard, and advise, assist, direct and protect the general public, and especially strangers, at all times, and in general do all within their power to properly promote the safety, comfort and convenience of those with whom they come into contact.

They must answer all proper questions in a civil and careful manner, and in their treatment of the public must be uniformly courteous and polite, endeavoring to carry out in the best possible manner the duties laid upon them by the rules and regulations of this department, and the laws and ordinances of this State and city.

Street-Car Transfers.

All the surface car lines in New York, or rather Manhattan Borough, are controlled by two great companies whose trunk lines and main branches extend north and south from five to ten miles. They are crossed by very many shorter lines extending east and west and giving access to the various ferries, etc. Other lines zigzag across the city, and belt lines follow the river fronts and connect all ferries.

Formerly a separate fare was exacted over each line, requiring an outlay of from 10 to 15 cents in many cases, and often twice as much between distant points in Manhattan and Brooklyn. With few exceptions, one fare now pays for continuous transit over all connecting lines belonging to the same system; and the sagacious and liberal policy of the great companies, notably the Metropolitan Traction Company and the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company operating about 600 miles of street-car lines, enables the citizens of Greater New York to travel long distances at less cost than in any other place on the globe. Despite the extraordinary difficulties attending rapid transit in cities, these wisely managed corporations have adopted every improvement possible under the conditions and have raised the standards of speed and comfort in city transit to a very high and most commendable plane.

The system of transfers adopted by them not only makes city travel astonishingly cheap where it was once exasperatingly costly, but to the surprise of financiers has increased the net earnings of the transit companies.

Greater New York has an area of more than 300 square miles. Getting about requires frequent changes and the use of various lines. It is cheap if you make use of transfer tickets; it is a considerable item if you do not. The difference to a family party of four might readily be from $1 to $2 daily.

The Big Steamships.

Probably the most wonderful things to be seen by the visitor to New York, and those which will excite the most interest by their novelty, are the ocean steamers which enter this port. The largest vessel ever built—the Oceanic—arrived here a few days ago. While the Dewey Celebration is in progress she is returning to Europe. There are, however, several of the ocean monsters to be seen here at nearly all times. Without going into detail as to exact dimensions, a few comparisons will be of interest. Several of the big liners would fill Broadway from curb to curb, stand higher than the average five-story building, block up four cross streets and, if placed upon end, overtop any building or tower now in existence! From thirty to forty freight trains could be put away in the hull of each! Let housekeepers think of feeding 2,000 people for a week without once going to market, with about half of them sick and requiring special care, and an idea will be gained of some aspects of an ocean liner.

Among the noted steamers which will be in during the week of the Dewey Celebration or the following week, and the piers of the principal steamship lines, are as follows:

AMERICAN LINE.—Pier foot Fulton street, New York. The public are cordially invited to visit steamers in port on the following days. No permits required:

ST. PAUL, September 25th and 26th.
NEW YORK, October 2d and 3d.

WHITE STAR LINE.—Pier 48, North River, New York:

TEUTONIC.

HAMBURG-AMERICAN LINE.—First street, Hoboken, New Jersey. Permits can be obtained at the office of the Company, 35-37 Broadway:

PATRICIA. September 30th.
PHŒNICIA, October 3d.
AUGUSTE-VICTORIA, October 5th.
GRAF WALDERSEE, October 7th.

NORTH GERMAN LLOYD STEAMSHIP LINE.—Foot Second and Third streets, Hoboken, New Jersey.

CUNARD STEAMSHIP COMPANY.—Pier 40 North River, New York.

AVERY CLASSICS

The tower of the New York Life Insurance Building affords a grand panoramic view of Greater New York and the surrounding country. Access to the observatory can be had by cards of admission, issued without charge by The Merchants' Association, whose rooms are on the ground floor of the New York Life Building.
